A Special Article from the Library

We're springing into April in the library. It's also National Poetry Month. Pick out a good poetry book from the list below to share with your family in the next few weeks. Poems offer the flexibility needed for our often busy lives. You can read as many or as few as you have time for. Rhyming poems help reluctant readers enjoy the magic and fun of words.

Quarter 4 Accelerated Readers:

This last quarter of the year can prove challenging for students. AR reading time is provided daily in school but can often be supplemented at home especially on weekends. Keep track of what your child is reading by looking at their reading logs and Accelerated Reader TOPS (The Opportunity to Praise) report from each quiz taken. You can also view your child's progress on Home Connect on our Eastview Library homepage.

Recommended poetry reading:

- It's Raining Pigs and Noodles by Jack Prelutsky;
- Poetry for Young People by Carl Sandburg;
- The Tale of Custard the Dragon by Ogden Nash;
- The Midnight Ride of Paul Revere by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow;
- Where the Sidewalk Ends by Shel Silverstein;
- This is Just to Say—Poems of Apology and Forgiveness by Joyce Kilmer.

With spring in our reading,
